DAS KAPITAL by Marcello Mercado

Opera-Oratorium in 2 acts and 779 Parafine Strings

Prologue

Narrator : This version is an opera-oratorium based on the tragedy by Karl Marx but preserving only a certain monumental aspect of its various chapters.

Pour encourager les autres

You are about to hear Argos, Robert Graves's Dog etherised upon a table...:

"Men say that graves open and the dead walk

or that futurity becomes a womb

and the unborn are shed"<sup>(1)</sup>

Narrator : Now our drama begins.

Financial Kapital have declared war to Das Kapital's First Book Chapters and its dogs and unborns' collaborators, in order to fight the foetal communist cells and prevent M-C-M's patents

The Chorus implores to Wilhem Wolff's Dog (intrepid, faithful, noble protagonist of the proletariat) to save the book. He is debating which course is the most adequate to take, when suddenly Table-Commodity say: "I-the Commodity-speak!. The secret of my nature is already betrayed"

ACTUS PRIMUS : Lament

Secret Detention Center

Abrimos la sala en donde estaban los cadáveres. Algunos llevaban más de 30 días en el depósito sin ningún tipo de refrigeración. Encontramos una nube de moscas y el piso cubierto por una capa de 10,5 cm de gusanos y larvas que sacamos en baldes cargándolos con palas. No teníamos bozales ni ropa adecuada.

La mayoría de estos cadáveres eran delincuentes subversivos

Fuimos al cementerio en la caja del camión junto a los cadáveres custodiados por 2 móviles de la policía. Ellos alumbraron la fosa común-40mx8mx6m- donde fueron depositados identificados por números y como punto de referencia los pilares de una pared cercana. Estos venían heridos de bala, algunos con muchas perforaciones-hasta 80- y todos con los dedos pintados y marcas de tortura. También en los puños como si hubieran sido atados con piolas

-Yes We will !

smack smack chuick chuick chuick!

Reality is yours because it is controlled by the Biochemical Police

What's that?

Robert Graves' dog

- Tables-turning! Tables-turning!

A wooden brain!

A boat steered toward battles not your own<sup>(18)†</sup>

I hope nothing has happened to it!

They killed for killing's sake like mad dogs going after their prey!

Stilled blood...

Engelmacher

-Dog was in the right side...

Geburten seines Kopfs!

Wallace Stevens' dog

-Am I a man that is dead at a table on which the food is cold?

Is my thought a memory not alive?<sup>(19)†</sup>

Samuel Beckett's Dog

-Is it not better abort than be barren?

is it better too soon that never? <sup>(33)†</sup>

Dylan Thomas' Dog

-Dead men naked they shall be one

When their bones are picked clean and the clean bones gone

Though they go mad they shall be sane

Though they sink through the sea

they shall rise again

And death shall have no dominion<sup>(42)†</sup>
